CHANGE ON THE LAND

Fifteen years is a short period of time. Yet, in the past 15 years vast and often revolutionary changes have taken place in this country. And nowhere has change been more marked than in agriculture. In these 15 years, the farm population declined by 2,500,000 people. In those same 15 years, the country gained 30,000,000 in population. There are 30,000,000 more mouths to feed—and they are being fed, better than ever before.

How can 20,000,000 fewer farmers take care of the wants of 30,000,000 more people? The biggest part of the answer to that question can be provided in one word—and the word mechanization. Agriculture not only has more farm equipment, but it is better equipped—more productive, more economical to operate, more trouble-free, more versatile. So every farmer and farm worker can get out more produce—and get it out with less waste and less labor.

The significance of this will deepen as time wears on. Our population continues to soar, and people continue to demand higher living standards. It seems certain that time and tide, if nothing else, will solve our current farm surplus problems. The machine is the assurance of plenty.

GOOD NEWS IN ANY LANGUAGE

A short time ago the Federal Maritime Board made an announcement which received well-earned national attention. It said that the Board, acting for the government, and a leading American merchant ship line, had agreed on a program of shipbuilding involving an investment of some $313,000,000.

This is the biggest program of its kind in the history of our merchant marine. According to the Board's Chairman Morse, it will result in nearly 27,000 man-years of work in American shipbuilding centers "with the nationwide stimulation that such construction provides to industry throughout the country." He added, "All Americans will share in the benefits of the stimulation to trade and commerce that our acting," assures.

Programs of a similar nature, involving other shipping lines, are in the making. Their purpose is to replace, in an orderly manner, American cargo ships as they approach obsolescence—and thus to make it possible for the U. S. merchant marine to compete with aggressive foreign lines. The experience of two world wars conclusively demonstrated that it would be folly to depend on the foreign lines in today's unpredictable world.

Directly and indirectly these programs will mean money in the pockets of workers, farmers, manufacturers and others in every far-flung section of this country. That's good news in any language.

THE GERMAN EXAMPLE

West Germany's economic recovery, after a war in which she suffered total defeat and unimaginable material destruction, has been a modern-day miracle. And how did Germany accomplish this? The Oregon Vetter explained it in these words: "The Germans... have gone straight to the key principles of free enterprise upon which the U. S. industrial power was built. They have put free enterprise to work..."

We Americans, who are continually being urged to give government more and more power at the expense of free enterprise, can certainly profit from the German example.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

She Knew It All The Time

Chances are, long ago your grandpa knew how to keep you from catching cold. Nine did. "Stay out of drafts," he'd warn. "Bundling up. Don't get wet." Then, maybe, when you grew up you found that the old lady theories were considered old-fashioned. Germans were the thing—and the way to avoid a cold was to have someone else "take it off"—something like that, wet feet or going without your muffler. From where I sit, there's little old grandma people believe in. "Early to bed, early to rise," for instance, is the practice of drinking hot milk or a glass of beer at bedtime. I'm not saying it's one of the drugs used successfully to eliminate the parasite. Parents must follow up medical treatment with a personal cleanliness code. They must see to it that children wash their hands often and insist that hands are washed before every meal.

Fingernails of children with pinworms must be cut short. These children should sleep alone, if possible, and great care should be taken when handling their bedclothes. The children should not be allowed to touch food items or other members of the family.

These medical and sanitary measures, authorities believe, can eliminate the pinworm menace.

RETAILING—A LOCAL BUSINESS

The federal minimum wage law has always exempted certain businesses, of which retailing is one. When the wage rate was last increased by Congress, an effort was made to extend the coverage to some of the exempt enterprises including interstate retailers such as the chains. But the effort failed, and the established exemptions were extended.

Now, it appears, a renewed effort to broaden coverage will be made in the next session. So the reasons for the retail exemption should be generally understood.

FSVMA Nears Victory In Fight With Bangs Disease In Cattle

Satisfactory progress in a five-year program aimed at eradicating brucellosis among cattle in Florida by 1960 was reported at the annual executive committee meeting of the Florida State Veterinary Medical Association. Meeting here to blueprint the association's activities for 1956, veterinary leaders from throughout Florida heard a report from the FSVMA large animal committee on present measures in Florida to eliminate brucellosis, also known as Bang's disease.

Brucellosis is a livestock disease which decreases milk production, causes abortions and sterility in cattle and potentially can cause undulant fever in humans who drink milk from diseased cows. The Florida Livestock Board has employed a director of brucellosis and five additional field veterinarians who primarily are concerned with brucellosis control.

Until late in 1955, Florida's efforts in combating brucellosis were directed at control, rather than complete eradication, of the disease. Currently, the veterinarians contend, the aim is to completely wipe out the affliction.

The Florida Livestock Board has employed a director of brucellosis and five additional field veterinarians who primarily are concerned with brucellosis control.

ber total and $1,500 over December of 1954. At the same time, total unemployment dipped 7,600 under a year ago to 50,700.

Biggest employment increases in December were 23,500 in trade and 8,800 in service establishments due to winter tourist season gains and the Christmas shopping spurge.

Government employment over the month increased 4,600, with state and local government and 4,300 in Federal employment. Manufacturing employment rose by 4,600.

The only major industry showing a decline was the construction field which registered a drop of 1,400 workers below November. However, construction employment was still 900 ahead of December of 1954.

Everglades Buzzes With Year-Around Crop Progress Now

Florida's Everglades country, formerly devoted to seasonal plantings, is buzzing now with year-around activities. The long mild winters, the rich muck land that stretches to far horizons, bring in crop after crop to capture top out-of-season prices in the metropolitan markets. Engineers are penetrating deeper into this vast, strange country to reclaim thousands of acres for cultivation and for pasture.

Collier County stands conspicuously in the new march of progress as a major area that seems perfect for truck gardening, watermelons from Collier's first to market, outstripping the established melon centers in mid-state. The Glades are shipping rice in increasing quantities. More acres are being devoted to corn, with new emphasis on a magenta and white corn. The processing of this product into cans, tomatoes and celery are receiving increased attention; Florida's celery crop for the year will total approximately $10 million.

Over the past ten years the growing of head lettuce has been intensified in this section. Last winter Glades potato growers shipped 210,000 5-pound sacks of Red Bliss potatoes, U. S. No. 1.

"Solunkens" who are persons who love to explore caverns which have never been explored, frequently visit Florida Caverns State Park at Marianna. They visit the lighted cavern, but much more frequently, they explore the old "Indian Cave" which is unlighted. In both, they have handed lists for several years. In "Indian Cave" there are large numbers of bats and it is reported that a bat banded in it was found recently in the vicinity of Chicago.

National System Of Phone Dialing Begins March 4th

The telephone company announces that beginning March 4th the "2-5 numbering plan" will be instituted in the Belle Glade exchange, as a part of a long range plan for expanding local service and speeding long distance service.

In this community of an unusually high percentage of calls, it is interesting to hear talk of the time when we will be able to use the "cut-off" system in far-away places.

Wymen will be our exchange along with the figure "0," then four numerals, and most local phone numbers will not be changed, but will have the prefix attached.

A new phone directory with all numbers and instructions on how to use the "cut-off" system, will be issued to all subscribers before March 4th.

STUDENT COUNCIL

(Continued from Page One) The students complained of not much to do, no space and not well-kept. Upwards of 75% of the students gave a grade of less than one-fourth of the enrollment, said a new teen center was in the making.

Before the council Mrs. Mixon explained that the committee was in the making of a new youth center like the Elks club.

She explained that when the Elks room was closed some place had to be selected. The city gave $1,000 from the general fund to the committee to renovate and stock the Rambler.

Mrs. Mixon explained that the center was mopped at least once a day by prisoners as soon as the mid day rush is over. "I couldn't find that it was dirty," she said. Then she added, "After lunch it's a cyclone in there. If you would call it a pig pen, I would go along with you."

Mrs. Mixon explained that students kept it untidy most of the time. "The blame should have been put on the students, but we're not trying to make anybody think we've got a rosy picture over there."

Parents' inspection of the Rambler was invited. The committee is anxious for them to see what is being done.

"We're asking the parents to drop in anytime and see for themselves what is going on."

It was understood that immediately after the swimming pool has been built using a part of the $200,000 bond issue that a white and negro civic center is the next objective of the city.

In the Rambler survey The Herald meant to point up the need for expediency in that goal rather than condemn any present practice.

Concerning that goal, Mrs. Mixon remarked, "We're the youth committee) working for something bigger and better. We don't want to knock in the head what we already have."

Frank O. Hobson, principal, indicated that further study in the matter was warranted. He said Mrs. Mixon to speak to the student body Thursday morning.

Mrs. Mixon explained the workings of the Rambler and called for the students' co-operation in keeping the center clean.

"The city's not going to spend $50,000 for something else if you tear up what you have," she told the students.

She explained that the Rambler would serve until the end of this year and said next year something better was in store.

"I feel reasonably sure you'll get the type of center you want," she concluded.

Hours of operation of the center are: 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, 2 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday night, 7 to 11:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Founders Day Is Observed By PTA

Mrs. Richard Uhl of Lantana, county council president, was the guest speaker at the Annual Founders Day program at the Parents and Teachers Assn. on Monday night.

Mrs. Uhl spoke on "PTA work on a county and state level." Mrs. Alice Myers, county study council chairman and parliamentarian, was also introduced.

The devotions were given by Mrs. Walter Schlechter.

Mrs. Lorenzo Connell sang several selections, accompanied by Miss Marian Najarian at the piano.

In celebration of the 59th anniversary of Founders Day a birthday cake was served with punch. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. John Hooker, Mrs. Frank Dooley, Mrs. Edie Schoepel, Mrs. William Graber, and Mrs. Junius Harris.

Mrs. Frank Dooley, first vice president, presided at the business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. E. D. Humphreys.

The group voted to give $300 as a donation to the school library. Announcement was made that books for which the PTA also donated the money, had arrived for the "Book Shelf" for parents and teachers.

A Parliamentary Procedure study course open to all PTA members of the area to be held Feb. 28 from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at Jameson Hall, was announced.

The course will be taught by Mrs. Alice Myers. A sandwich lunch will be served.

An exhibition was announced "School of Progress" sponsored by the Florida Power and Light Co., which may be seen at the FEC RR Station in West Palm Beach. The exhibition was on display beginning Feb. 15 and will continue through Feb. 20, and was set up by the Ford Foundation and American Encyclopedia.

(Continued from Page One) toward the recognition of Ramble and its economic value to the State of Florida and as a result of this beginning it was hoped that this important economic item could be developed to its ultimate benefit.

The action was initiated by the Florida Ramble Growers and Processors Association and urged by the Palm Beach County Resources Board.

The request was for funds for the New Orleans Laboratory, the Bureau of Standards and for additional funds for experimental mechanical work at the Everglades Experiment Station on grower processing.

The Florida national representatives were wired thanks for their expeditious and effective work on this.

AF Films Shown to Geography Classes
A series of seven weeks of Air Force Films are being shown to the World Geography classes at the high school. The films began Wednesday, with the first half of "The Air Force Story," being shown. Sgt. Earl Kimball, from West Palm Beach Air Force Base, comes out once a week to show the films.
The first film began with invention of the airplane and brings in the first Army plane. It covers all of World War I and shows several acts and the missions they flew. Then it covers civilian aviation between 1924 and 1930 and includes several record breaking and history making flights.
These films are very thorough, interesting, and educational, and the classes are eagerly looking forward to next week when they can see another film.
At the United States Military Academy at West Point there is a monument in memory of Major Dade and his command. Monuments are also to be found where they fell in Dade Battleground State Park near Bushnell.

Harvester Ready For Fields Here

THIS MASSIVE CELERY HARVESTER inches its way to South Bay celery fields after being built by Roy M. Lane & Sons machine shop here. The harvester, one of the largest of its kind in the Glades, uses 75-80 laborers in full operation.

The new type harvester, which took nearly six months to build, offers centralized operation and probably a speed up of operation in the field. Actual harvesting speed of the equipment has not yet been determined, however, a 50-man machine averages two acres per day in celery harvesting. The larger machine may or may not be able to exceed that average.

The giant celery belt made here is powered by an Oliver diesel engine of 10 horsepower and is owned by growers, Evans and Rogers, of South Bay.

The machine was started in September of 1955 and sent to the fields two weeks ago. It

Brownie Leaders Training Today

Today a Brownie leaders training course will be conducted at the Girl Scout Hut under the new Palm Beach Glades Scout Council. Mrs. Newell Good will instruct the course and Mrs. William Bixley of Clewiston will conduct the course for the intermediate program.

The first session is from 10 a.m. until 12 noon and the afternoon session from 2 until 4 p.m.

All adults interested are urged to attend and bring a lunch. Coffee will be served.

A group of senior Girl Scouts from West Palm Beach plan to camp in this area over the coming weekend to learn about this part of the county before going to the national summer camp in Michigan in the summer.

On The . . . STREET CORNER

Folks are wondering when the improvements will be made to W. Lake Rd. and Palm Beach Rd. and all the city will say is: "soon." Kenneth Meek, engineer for the city, has the plans on his desk now.

Lebron "Digger" Williams said business has fallen off. He had six less cases in January than usual. That's too bad . . . that's good.

Big Deal: Is the trailer park site at NW 2nd St. going to be a shopping center? Trailers have been moved as city orders following condemnation procedures, but land owners won't say what's in the wind.

Attention, Legionnaires: You are needed to work a few hours each Saturday at the hall. "Little Audrey" said it's your hulk . . . support it.

Wow! Did you see or hear all the fuss kicked up over The Herald's article about the Bamber? That proves at least one thing: People do read the inside pages.

The last straw: Flare-up at the city last week showed that some of the men around here know their culinary art. Cutting, that is.

The right recalls this old story: "Hi! You missed me," he said.

"Just wait 'til you nod your head," was the reply.

Family Squabble Ends

With Shotgun Blast

A family argument Saturday night in the negro section at Ave. B. Place and 7th St., resulted in wounding Harry Jackson, 23, of Belle Glade.

City Investigator V. R. Clark said Jackson had visited his father-in-law's home to pick up Jackson's wife, Dorothy Mae, 21. The woman declined to leave and an argument ensued which involved Wallace Byrd, a son of Jackson's father-in-law, Oscar Byrd.

Jackson allegedly struck the elder Byrd and left the house to continue the argument on the steps of the Byrd home.

Clark said witnesses said Byrd then shot Jackson in the knee with a shotgun. Jackson was taken to Belle Glade Memorial Hospital. Oscar Byrd was charged with assault and battery with a firearm.

Clark said Jackson may be charged with disorderly conduct. A hearing in Municipal Court will be held when Jackson is released by the hospital.

true to the belief that people

matter!"

Dwight D. Eisenhower
PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

"In peacetime as in time of war the Red Cross continues its effective work for the relief of human suffering.

All of us find in our minds and hearts wonderful memories of Red Cross help to those in need. Moreover, through the Red Cross we, as individuals, have been enabled to help our neighbors, in a Pennsylvania flood, a California forest fire, an Atlantic Coast hurricane, an Indiana explosion.

Today the need for the Red Cross is stronger than ever before. There continues an urgent need for blood for the ill and injured. There are still members of the Armed Forces who must not be forgotten. There are disaster areas—old and new—where Red Cross help is needed.

By joining the Red Cross, the American people will continue to support its splendid efforts to meet these ends. In rendering such assistance, each of us will have the satisfaction that comes from unselfish service to those in need."

BILL BAKER

Bill is just one of about 1,200 Southern Bell cable splicers. Seen with the company almost 10 years. He's active in PIA work, likes to bowl, and is on hand with tools around the house or on the job. Was "topkick" to his National Guard pals for years.

Meet Bill Baker, cable splicer for Southern Bell. In his day's work he "joins together" the hundreds of tiny wires in the telephone cables which carry your calls.

Cable splicing is just one of many jobs it takes to fill your telephone needs. And Bill is typical of some 65,000 Southern Bell people who work as a well-coached team. Keeping intricate equipment in top shape. Putting your calls through. Giving you the kind of service you want.

Because you can depend on the people behind the lines, you can depend on your telephone—24 hours a day.

Slack Period Appears In State Harvesting

Florida State Employment Service figures and information released this week show labor supplies and demands are generally in balance in the lower east coastal areas and here.

Here, Lee L. Smith, FSES manager, said 300 males have been referred to central Florida citrus areas since the freeze.

Other orders for coast bean pickers are picking up. Most crews in the Ft. Lauderdale area are obtaining about four days harvest work per week. Bean and other vegetable harvest shortages are likely within two or three weeks.

In the Miami section most available agricultural labor hasty limits, in most cases it will been employed on two to four day basis during the week. Tomatoes and potatoes will be ready for peak harvest soon.

Elsewhere in the eastern half of Palm Beach county pepper harvest is fairly active. Some unemployment among Spanish-speaking workers is present. These workers are scattered throughout the section and not in any organized groups.

Ft. Myers workers are moving into citrus areas near Tampa where the need for citrus workers is growing. A moderate surplus of vegetable workers exists and most workers prefer to remain in this section to await local harvest developments.

Forum For County Building Officials Formed February 8

A permanent organization designed to provide a forum for county officials connected with the building industry in an area from Melbourne to Ft. Lauderdale, including Belle Glade, was formed at a meeting held in West Palm Beach Feb. 8.

The new organization will be known as the Building Officials' Forum of South Florida. The organization came about as a result of recent meetings to formulate a uniform building code for the county.

Ferris Leas, West Palm Beach building inspector, was named permanent chairman; W. L. Cunningham, inspector here, vice chairman.

Plumbing inspectors and all other officials dealing with the building industry will be included in the organization.

The next meeting of the group will be in the city inspector's office here March 2 at 8 p. m. The general purpose of the group will be to discuss mutual problems, construction materials and methods, with attention to the standardization of official regulations in this area.

Other goals will include a uniform electrical and plumbing code, a county-wide code, and a uniform method of licensing contractors.

SRD Begins Traffic Survey Thru County

If you are flagged down by the State Highway Patrol as you enter or leave the coastal available agricultural labor hasty limits, in most cases it will mean that roadside interviewers will be soliciting information that will become a part of the county-wide traffic survey now being conducted by the State Road Department.

Crews of men will function around the clock to perform a 24-hour check on the origin and destination of trips, state of license and route exit or entrance of all vehicles passing a given point. You will be asked if you are going to work, shopping, to obtain gas, or are to stop overnight. The type of car, truck, trailer or taxi and number of passengers will be recorded.

The traffic survey is the result of a request by the County Commissioners to aid in long range planning of arterial highways, and will help establish priorities and improvement of existing routes. The information gathered will assist the County Engineers to adapt right of way and design standards most constructive to county progress and will also integrate with national surveys instituted by the Department of Public Road, Washington, D. C.

Citrus Workers Will Return For Beans

A total of 282 male workers have been transported at the citrus harvest area as of last week from the Glades, according to Lee L. Smith, manager of the Employment Service here. Smith said the orange harvest should hit a slump around the first week in March and that workers would be needed here about the same time. Arrangements were made to have the crews return here in about two to three weeks.

Also workers would be brought into the Glades from the east coast agricultural areas to augment bean harvesters.

Let us demonstrate America's lowest priced 4-wheel drive truck

Extra traction of its 4-wheel drive takes the 'Jeep' over up to 60% grades—through mud, snow, sand. It shifts into 4-wheel drive for highway travel.

Building: The rugged 'Jeep' Truck carries a one-ton load. G.V.W., 118 inch wheelbase.

Towing: With the extra traction of its 4-wheel drive, it tows heavily loaded trailers, on the road or off the road.

Beit power: With power takeoff, it serves as a power unit for operating many types of belt-driven equipment.
